Learn the fascinating stories behind the art in our Botanic Gardens!

It may come as a surprise to some that the Durango Botanic Gardens, located at the Durango Public Library, is host to one of the largest collections of outdoor art in Durango. Notable local artists include Jeff Wise, David Mallin, Mikki Harder, Nia Sturr, Mary Ellen Long, Bryan Saren, Ross Barrable, Kim Adams, and Annette LeMaire. Our collection of outdoor art encompasses a wide range of materials, including murals, ceramics, glass, metalwork, and woodwork.

On September 21, beginning at 4:30 pm at the Durango Public Library, we will present a video and slides of the artwork in our gardens with many of the artists on hand to add more detail as to what inspired this particular piece, issues they may have encountered, etc.

Following our in-library presentation, at approximately 5:15 pm, we will move out into the botanic gardens to inspect our outdoor art collection and visit with their creators.

This event is a rare opportunity to visit some of the most acclaimed artists in our region, many with a national following.
